732 women,

437 children

115 men

Staff assisted individuals whose lives were impacted by violence.

"When I came to shelter I had very few personal belongings, no money, no job and most of all I had no hope. I was humiliated because of the things that had happened to me and was ready to give up. I don't even like to think of what might have happened had I not been able to come to shelter, they helped me realize that I could make it and they truly helped me find "HOPE"

Our services are all free
